

GIORGIA ZANELLATO

Giorgia Zanellato, of the 1987 contingent, is an appreciated and brilliant product designer born in Venice from where she took her first steps in the artistic field, graduating from the IUAV University and subsequently getting a Masters in Product Design from the prestigious ECAL Swiss institute. Currently, she is part of the Fabbrica - Benetton Group communications research team and, besides collaborating as a freelance designer for various companies and art galleries, has under her belt various participations in important cultural events in Italy and the world.

