Hikuroa

Made for life.

At Harrows we believe in sustainability and responsible manufacturing. Latest technology and time-honoured craft go hand in hand to create products that bring people together and are designed with longevity in mind, extending the useful life and in turn reducing waste.

Harrows have aligned with Crassevig, the designer and manufacturer of the Pola Family for many reasons, not least of which is their beliefs around the environment and sustainability.

The company has a rich history celebrating over 50 years in the industry. They design and generate interior solutions that respect people and nature, working according to the criteria of ISO 9001:2008, certifying the quality of the company organization and ISO 14001:2004 certifying the environmental management system. Representing a scale of values, priorities and future commitments, to make Crassevig chairs and products generative items, an asset for anyone embracing our vision.

Life is built on the interaction of people. We fill spaces with thoughtfully crafted furniture to facilitate these interactions.

Let's talk.
